TALES OF THE TOWN.

Elks meet to-night.

The foundation of the Government building is about completed.

The new Y. M. C. A. building at Piqua was opened yesterday.

The P. F. W. & C. flower beds are being reset for the summer.

A neat office building has been put up in the Ohio Southern up town office.

Crushed stone is being used to fill up some holes in the street in front of the City building.

Thos. R. Shaw has purchased the Clarence James property on Market street, west of Metcalf.

A horse was received last night by American Express Co. to replace the one lost by lockjaw last week.

Nothing has been heard from pugilist Pat Conway, who gave the police the slip night before last.

Last night Bert Montague and J. A. Platt rode the Maccabees' gun. The latter got the worst of their trip too.

A crowd of men became involved in a fight at High and Jackson streets last night, but fled before the police arrived.

Forepaugh's bill car No. 1 arrived here over the Ohio Southern last night and was transferred to the C. H. & D. this morning.

The Lima Locomotive and Machine Company's works are shut down while the yearly inventory is being taken. They will resume Monday.

Geo. A. McDonald, of Pickering, Pa., has taken a position as bookkeeper in the Buckeye Pipe Line Co., and will shortly remove his family here.

The ground surrounding the North Jefferson street school building has been greatly improved with a number of shade trees, recently set out.

The Elks have begun rehearsing for their annual minstrel benefit, to be given next month. Another rehearsal will be had tomorrow night.

Chief Haller arrested a drunken man about two o'clock this afternoon. The fellow was unknown and was found back of the White Sewing Machine company's office.

Conductor Phipps, of the P. F. W. & C., who was injured in his encounter with a gang of tramps near Monroeville night before last, is laid up with his injuries and will remain there for some time, as his ankle is very badly sprained.

Last evening Roy Bristol, a young child living on North Main street, near the P. F. W. & C. crossing, was knocked down by a horse while crossing the street. Frank Jones, of 224 South Main street, picked the boy up and carried him home. He was more frightened than hurt.

Clairvoyant.

Madam LaMosa, of Boston, the world renowned clairvoyant, guarantees to visitors perfect satisfaction, giving accurate and truthful readings on the past, present and future, a correct diagnosis of all disease. Her advice upon business, lawsuits, love, marriage, or in regard to absent or estranged friends is invaluable, and predictions are unfailing. Will be only a short time here. Parlor at the Windsor hotel.

Linnell Discharged.

Charley Linnell, an account of whose being arrested and taken to Greensprings by Detective Jno. T. Morris appeared in the Times-Democrat yesterday, on the charge of robbing a farmer of $800 a year or so ago, was discharged by the justice before whom he was tried, the complaining witness being unable to identify him as the guilty person.

MAY DIE

A Tramp Seriously Injured Early This Morning

My Jumping from a Freight Train on the C. H. & D. at Wayne Street—Taken to the Infirmary.

About 5:30 o'clock this morning as the first section of north bound freight train No. 96, on the C. H. & D., was crossing Wayne street, an unknown man was seen in the act of jumping from a car of coke. The train was not moving at a very rapid rate of speed, but the man, who appeared rather clumsy about getting off, did not land far enough from the track when his feet struck the ground, and before he had time to get out of the way, the next car struck him, knocking him lengthwise of the rail. As he fell his head was hit by an oil box which rendered him unconscious. The outside of the trucks next caught the unfortunate man and rolled him into such a position that the wheels caught both his feet and passed over them at the toes. He was finally rolled to one side of the track and left unconscious and bleeding on the planks of the crossing.

Persons who witnessed the accident, telephoned a message to the police station, and Policeman Baker went to the scene and summoned Grokjan's ambulance. The unconscious man was placed on a stretcher and ordered taken to Mrs. Myers' private hospital at the corner of Elm and Main streets. Policeman Baker also notified the C. H. & D. company's physician, Dr. Kahle, who would have attended.

THE MAN'S INJURIES.

but Infirmary Director Jettinoff arrived, and taking charge of the case, summoned Dr. Terwilliger.

The unfortunate man, whose general appearance indicated that he was a professional tramp, had the face of both eyes badly smashed that several of them had to be amputated. His most serious injuries, however, were about his head and face. His nose was cut in two by a terrible gash which extended from his upper lip through his right eye, across the forehead and around the right side of his head, almost to the back of his neck, the scalp being laid open in a frightful manner. Dr. Terwilliger, after dressing the wounds, said that the skull was possibly fractured, and that the sight of the right eye would probably be destroyed, though it was impossible to tell yet. After the physicians finished dressing the man's wounds, Infirmary Director Jettinoff ordered him taken to the county infirmary, where he was removed in the ambulance.

HE WAS UNCONSCIOUS

when picked up and was in the same condition when he left Mrs. Myers' hospital.

Upon arriving at the infirmary the man's pockets were searched and several letters found which proved him to be Frank McConachy. One letter was from his wife at 502 Sherborn street, Toronto, Ont. The letter indicated that McConachy was in search of work. His wife and baby being left in destitute circumstances, the former was compelled to let herself out as a domestic and leave their babe in the care of friends. In her letter she begged of her husband to quit drinking and provide a home for her and the babe.

Another letter from an attorney in Washington proves that McConachy is an old soldier and an applicant for a pension. A third letter indicated that the unfortunate man had at one time been employed by the Hydrum, Power and Manufacturing company at Niagara Falls, N. Y., to which place he was no doubt enroute to when he injured this morning. McConachy is about fifty-five years of age and this afternoon had partially regained consciousness.

ROUND ABOUT.

The "intending word," that sometimes comes, the intention is these.

We think we ought something new in "it" enough for you?

Jacob Kiesel has bought for $10,000 the Porter rooms on High street, now occupied by W. L. Stahl and the Gazette printing office. He will remove his printing shop into the Stahl room.

Marion Ohio is about to vote on the subject of street paving. They expect to use brick as their paving material.

Adam Forepaugus circus and menagerie will exhibit in Lima two weeks from today. They expect to show of grounds belonging to H. A. Moore in the southeastern part of the city.

The numerous friends in this city of George Ketcham, the well-known Toledo horseman, will regret to learn that the little little mare, Katie Earl, is dead. The Toledo Blade says: Katie Earl, by Earl, with 2:11 mark, died at the Ketcham stock farm this morning.

The loss is one of the greatest in the history of the Ketcham stables, as the mare was one of the greatest in the race goes of 1883.

Kate Earl was more money last week than any horse on the American turf, and she was a great favorite not only with her owner but with everyone who came in contact with her.

Mr. Ketcham bought the mare some two years since of John Madden, of Kentucky, for $4,000.

Under his personal training she was prepared for the track last year and went through the grand circuit at one of the flowers of the Ketcham stables.

After the great race at Columbus last fall, in which Mr. Ketcham won first money with the mare, he was offered $25,000 for her. The offer was refused by Mr. Ketcham.

Kate Earl foaled a colt last week by Robert McGregor. Portionitis set in two days afterwards and despite the heroic efforts of Dr. Newton she failed to make a recovery.

Telephone exchanges, in opposition to the Bell company monopoly, are being put in a number of neighboring towns among them being Toledo and Lima. A company with a capital stock of $50,000,000 in New York city is putting in the service. Lima offers another opportunity for the company.

Lima Chapter R. A. M. will hold a regular meeting to-morrow evening. There will be work and refreshments.

A. V. Nico, who has been appointed Pension Agent for Ohio has established headquarters in Columbus. He has made his daughter Mary his private secretary and checkbooker.

Greer M. Orr, formerly a law student in the office of Ritchie & Ritchie, has been elected municipal judge at St. Paul, where he has been living since he left Lima about ten years ago.

Joe Hap met Charley Pangle the other day and hailed him: "If I can tell you where you got that necktie, Pangle, for the 'cents'."

"Let her go," replied Charley, after a moment's deliberation, and knowing what Joe would spring.

"Oh, no, I can't tell you," retorted Charley, catching hold of the tie, which was attached with a rubber to his collar button, and pulled it off.

It cost Joe $1.45 before everybody was through sniggering at how he got caught at his own game.

ARM CRUSHED.

Frightful Accident to a Bluffton Man.

At Bluffton yesterday afternoon Frank Clark had his right arm caught between the belt and pulley at Sidall & Townsend's shoe crusher, and was drawn up against the shaft, and his body thrown around no less than fifty times before the machinery was stopped. The belt was cut, and the arm was found to have been twisted about the shaft. Several times the bones being crushed and the flesh torn the entire length of the arm. He may die.

The Creation

Is going to be a great hit. The Choral Society is considering the advisability of adding to the orchestra a very fine quintet of string soloists from Chicago. The boxes have already been sold at a very handsome figure. Dr. Baxter kindly giving the most of his key note by taking the first lower box at a price of $25. The following of our leading citizens have taken the boxes: W. B. Ritchie and D. Bell the remaining down stairs box; Senator Brice, the balcony dress box. The Parisian boxes were taken respectively by L. S. Motter, O. H. Seifried, W. H. Duffield, J. W. Nan Dyke, Chas. Linneaman, two boxes by the Pennington club, and the remaining box by P. W. Holmes.

Tickets are being sold by members of the society. The play will be opened generally on the 10th of May, but those purchasing tickets from the members of the society will be given the advantage of selecting their reserved seats one day earlier.

Notice to the Public.

On account of going out of business, J. W. Orr hereby notifies those who are indebted to him to call at once at the Little Opera saloon and settle the same. Any person having claims against him will please present them at once to J. W. Orr.
